

Dear Sir Sean,

This missive, I hope, finds you in good spirits. I write to you to announce that I will be attending the upcoming Philly Beer Week and will be making a series of appearances at eight Philadelphia pubs from June 5 through June 12, including the much ballyhooed "Opening Tap" on June 4. (If Ben Franklin thinks he can steal the show, he's got another thing coming.)

My return to the world after more than two centuries in hibernation serves two purposes. The first is to dispense the witty and sometimes blunt advice I became known for, and the second is to herald the creation of the Chesterfield Society, an organization dedicated to those who profess a love of the beer that bears my name - Yuengling's Lord Chesterfield Ale.

An itinerary of my upcoming appearances at Philly Beer Week will be forwarded by my advisory and counsel, Mr. David Shoffner. I welcome the opportunity to meet you, either for an interview or a half yard of ale... or both!

Cheers,

Lord Chesterfield

P.S. - For photos, or to schedule an interview with myself or a representative from D.G. Yuengling & Sons, please contact my advisor and counsel in all matters 21st century-related, Mr. David Shoffner. He may be reached at 717-234-8886, 717-525-0055, or via electronic mail at dshoffner@pavone.net.
